Environment and Children Christopher Day, Anita Midbjer

How does the built environment affect children - their health, their behaviour, education and development?

To support them, what do we need to consider and what do we need to do? Can our surroundings foster environmental and social awareness and responsibility?

Based on Christopher Day's experiences designing schools and early childhood centres in the United States and Britain, this groundbreaking book sets out to answer these questions and to offer solutions.

Children all too often find themselves living in alien surroundings designed with the needs of adults in mind, cut off not just from the natural environment but also childhood itself. Society's reaction - to cocoon children from the outside world or to resort to drugs to control behaviour - fails to address the fundamental causes of problems which lie in the environment not the children themselves.

One of the world's leading thinkers on the impact of buildings on people, Christopher Day's insights offer new light on one of the most important issues for today's society.

So , for all you who want to start reading as your good habit, it is possible to pick Environment and Children become your starter.

Violet Jarrell:

As a pupil exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their passion. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and also can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Environment and Children can make you really feel more interested to read.
