Sporting Scenes amongst the Kaffirs of South Africa A. W. Drayson

"[...]start, appear to ply whip and spur to regain their position with the main body. The sea is then doubly dark and mysterious. The morning light would show the ocean covered with the beautiful little Portuguese men-of-war (Physalus), whose brilliant reflection of the prismatic colours would raise a feeling of ambition for their capture. An hour was passed in the endeavour to become more closely acquainted with them, by means of a little net over the ship's side—the result, like many others in this world, was disappointment. A man-of-war is caught, but, upon its reaching the deck, is found to consist of a small bladder, now destitute of those attractions that had tempted[...]".
